

DEVELOPER FOR WEBAPPS

UniCanDo GmbH is a swiss start-up company that offers educational and advanced training in law under the brand IUSHELP. In the following months various projects are lining up and we are looking for assistance from a developer.

The first project is about the registration of working hours (timekeeping), which our employees will use in the browser and as an iOS- or Android-App. We are currently considering a solution using „Xamarin“, but we are open to your ideas and tools for implementing this project.

WHAT WE OFFER

- Interesting assignments with a high amount of personal responsibility
- Flexible and mobile work
- A fair compensation

WHAT WE EXPECT FROM YOU

- advanced experience in the field of web-/app-development
- consulting/advisory services in fundamental problems/questions about the project architecture
- Precise coding and documentation
- Flexibility and quick readiness for action (generally starting immediately)

JOB APPLICATION

If you're interested, you can apply through E-Mail (david.imhof@iushelp.ch) with a short motivation letter and some of your own previous projects for reference.
